JACK PINE'S STUMP

Looks like one of ol' Jack's pet projects is going ka-fooie this year. Advent days. Last year we got around, got the church groups to help sell them (all profit to themselves), and generally set a pretty good record which the Hallmark people, makers of the cards, found quite amuse. But this year we didn't get around to the church groups, and even forgot to mention it again in last week's column. So the last hope is that enough people will remember them from last year to help the plan along.

Actually, Jack Pine does this just because he feels that at last some company has come forth with an idea which, though commercial in intent, is really a Christmas card. It is a religious holiday time, and not a time for the giving and getting of gifts. These Advent cards have windows, one of which is to be opened each day from December first until Christmas, the day of the Birth of Christ. The cards are of many kinds and sorts, but they all basically have a religious reminder in them. Christmas really is, as such, they are marvelous pre-Christmas gifts for children. There are about a dozen different designs stocked here in Grayling, and they are really quite inexpensive. (There's a difference, you know.)

DeVere Dawson as Dawson's has a good and full supply, priced at 50 cents and a dollar. Next time you are near there, drop in and take a look. You'll be doing yourself a favor.

And while, more or less, on the subject of Christmas, someone told me the other day about a stunt the Chamber of Commerce is working down in Frankfort, Michigan. Seems that the chamber is giving certificates to local people who do their Christmas purchasing in home stores. These certificates are worth one percent of the total purchase, and are redeemable in so, a man or woman buys a Christmas gift for, say, $10.00. He gets a ten percent certificate, which he takes to his church. The church can redeem it at the store for 10 cents. It's a good deal all around. People shop locally, the churches get some money, and the people get the credit. And for just one percent discount on the merchandise. No one loses. Now, Jack Pine asks, why can't someone come up with an idea like that for our town? Or ever better, why not start an idea, only make it two per cent?

Last week I mentioned something about Lawrence Welk being poor background music for the writing of this column. His bubbling music just doesn't seem to set the mood. But he has been able to figure out why Welk associated himself with champagne; whenever I see and hear him, I have a mental picture of a certain German back beer. I was after Welk left my picture screen the other night, the bubbling continued on. This rather confused me for a while, but I found the bubbling on the air or the floor would restore the usual sound pattern. The kids found it out, too. Now we don't allow TV at our house until Kenny Roberts, the jumping cowboy comes on in the afternoon. That's about 5 p.m., and then the jumping for Roberts and the jumping for the bubbling make for such things as weakened floor joists and screaming parents. The affair reached such a state that we sent for a repair man. He soothingly assured us that a change of a little tube would correct the horrid situation. He did... for as long as he was here, the bubbling continued, and the set just couldn't stop that darned bubbling. And next afternoon came The Jumping Cowboy, and we are right back where we were last week. I guess I'm going nuts. I guess I'm just not the bubbling, jumping sort of man. My children would wish the bubbling ones think I'm real-odd.

But then, just when I think I have all I can take from the kids, one of them will come up with something that makes me melt like butter in an August sun. My daughter, who is now a magnificent age of total reason, decided to be exact, announced that when she got married, she didn't want to marry an old man, she wanted to marry a nice, young man... oh, well, ah... just about like my dad. Like I say, my daughter has reached age of total reason, and when children reach that age, I got along with them very well indeed, thank you.

Local Woman Wins $200 On Television
Mrs. Harvey Rowland's name was announced on the Tuesday night TV program "Name That Tune," last week, as having been one of those whose list of seven favorite tunes were accepted for use on the program. Mrs. Rowland had the surprising experience of watching the contestant who was to name her tunes go as far as the fifth one, and then make a mistake, thereby ending Mrs. Rowland's chances of getting a free trip to New York to appear on the screen also. However, she was fortunate enough to win half the amount won by the contestant, about $200 which is a pretty good return on two three-cent stamps.

Christmas Gift Suggestions for Students

Parents! How many of you have year books from the schools you attended? If you have you know how much fun it is to look through them reminding, chuckling at the outdated hair styles and clothes, rereading the class will and prophecies. If you haven't any such books make sure your children do have.

The Grayling high school year books contain pictures of students from the seventh through the twelfth grades inclusive as well as pictures of the various activity groups, glee club, ball teams, etc.

There are a number of 1957 year books left. They are being sold for $1.50. Why not buy your daughter or son one as an extra Christmas gift. In years to come they will be glad you did.

The money from the year books is to go toward a new score board for the gym. The present board is worn-out.

Grayling Merchants Offering Real Savings On Items For Yule Gifts

Grayling's second annual Santa Claus Days will take place this Friday and Saturday, November 28th and 29th. With most of the city's merchants banded together to offer real savings on items for Christmas giving or for winter use, a large crowd of shoppers is expected in Grayling this week end.

The streets of Grayling are gayly decorated in the Christmas motif by the City of Grayling and the stores of the city are also merry in the Yuletide lights and cheerful decorations.

The two day sale is the result of a promotion by the Grayling Business and Professional Men's Association which was formed from the Retail Round Table sponsored by the Crawford County Chamber of Commerce with Howard Somers of Central Michigan College as the instructor. Mr. Somers will be back in Grayling in January to aid those merchants taking the course to further promotion which should bring Grayling an increase in retail sales.

The merchants co-operating in the sale have taken a two page advertisement in this week's Crawford County Avalanche (pages 2 and 3). Readers are urged to study the advertisements on the two pages as many outstanding values are offered, not only for Christmas giving but for use during the winter.

The merchants have also contracted with radio station WHGR of Houghton Lake and WATC of Gaylord for spot announcements this week which will further carry the announcement of the sale and the outstanding buys which are being offered. This sale is expected to be the largest of the season in Grayling. Other promotions of a similar nature will probably be staged by the Grayling Business and Professional Men's Association during the coming year.

The promotion actually got underway on Saturday, November 24, when a mailbox was placed on Michigan Avenue in front of the Grayling State Bank where the kiddies could mail their letters to Santa Claus. The mailbox will be at its spot throughout the week. It is expected that the drive now rolling along at a fast clip will have even further gains to report at the end of another week of the campaign.

Schooling Level Higher Locally, Post-Sputnik Finding

(Special to the Avalanche)

New York, Nov. 18—How well is Crawford County shaping up to its responsibility in the way of education? Are the local opportunities for learning adequate? Are the best students—all of them—being given the chance to go to college?

These are questions being put to every community by the President in launching a campaign to awaken the American people to the dangers posed by Sputnik.

The recent scientific achievements in the Soviet Union have brought home the alarming realization that our future is closely tied to the development of science and better scientists. The need has risen for a hard look at educational standards.

It appears that they are far below those of the Russians in the scientific field. Manpower of superior quality is being produced by them at an enormous rate.

In this country, a child's chance of getting a good education depends on where he lives, on his parents' finances and on his teachers' ability, says the National Education Association.

In Crawford County, it has netted the average individual some 9.6 years of schooling. This is more than is secured generally in the United States, an average of 9.3 years. In the average Central States it is 9.6 years.

A total of 215 local residents have received one or more years of college training. Of these, 90 have gone for four years or more, according to the latest Federal count.

In all, 10.5 percent of the local adult population has gone to college.

Most Educators in the country agree with Dr. Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard University, who claims that an insufficient investment of time, effort and money is producing results here that are far below the European level. He points out that less than one percent of our gross national product is being devoted to education.

Money, or the lack of it, is also responsible for the fact that about 150,000 high-ability students never get to college, according to a study made for the National Science Foundation. The loss to the country is termed "enormous."

Real "wealth" is established through a long list of little things we have added along life's way. The Pilgrims felt this and established a wonderful example by taking time... to be thankful. Science has given us much more than the Pilgrims dared dream. Most of us will sit at a well-filled table, so let's take time out to be thankful.

WIN $500-A-MONTH FOR LIFE

Plus 2 New "MONEY-AHEAD" PLYMOUTHs every week for 9 weeks
450 other valuable prizes

"MONEY-AHEAD" CONTEST

Fantastic? It's mighty near unbelievable! But true — just read this:
You can win $500 a month for the rest of your life. You can win a gleaming new "Money-Ahead" '58 Plymouth. You can win other valuable prizes.
It's the Plymouth "Money-Ahead" Contest, where a lifetime of financial security is ripe for the taking. Few things are more substantial than money, and a lot of money is the grand prize. But this is a contest where you can win big without hauling down first prize... for 18 sparkling new Plymouths and 450 other valuable prizes will be awarded. Now here's what you do:

Go into your Plymouth Dealer's and ask him for a contest blank. You don't have to be a mental giant to shoot for the big money. This contest is fun, and it's easy.
You simply unscramble seven easy words and terms, like the one you see in the example to the right. Then add your own short version of why you'd be money ahead in a '58 Plymouth. Believe us, there are plenty of good reasons you can use: Torsion-Aire, Total-Contact Brakes, Silver Dart Style, Push-Button Driving, new Golden Commando engines, etc. Unscramble or scramble — but you better not amble — to your Plymouth Dealer soon. The fun starts Monday, Nov. 25.

Spreads a magic carpet over bumps.
